Continuing the conversation... how to promote cultural diversity in sport

Relationships Australia Victoria invites you to a follow-up forum aimed at increasing cultural diversity in sport.

Following last year's successful event which identified common barriers to participation, this year's forum will showcase best practice and positive, sustainable outcomes in the Victorian community.

You will have the opportunity to share your successes and challenges with other Victorian sporting associations, clubs and community groups, as well as participate in an interactive Q & A with our panelists.

We value your participation and look forward to your contribution.
